Welcome to March News

Just to remind members, booking for the National is open until the 1 April. This event gives you the chance to put a face to the committee, and express your view at the AGM and open forum. We will also have a technical forum where a team from the factory will be able to answer any questions and give news of any new developments.

If you are having trouble finding a manual for your van, we now have the Club's copies available to download from the member area of the website. In the past we could only loan the copies to members by post on a short term basis. If you have any manuals which you would be happy for us to digitise, let the technical team know at technical@asoc.uk.com

Regarding the member area, you will need to subscribe from the website and you will then receive the login details. Please note you cannot make up your own details. This is because our server insists passwords must meet a certain secure percentage. Some members with email addresses have not subscribed to the member area. I would be interesting to know why. You can contact us via the website contact page or publications@asoc.uk.com

If you take the electronic version of News all the website addresses and emails are linked, you just need to click on them.

Included this month is the Guide for Rally Marshals. This tells you all about how to organise a rally if you fancy giving it a try the Rally Coordinator can give you all the help you need, he even has a few Rally venues to help you for the first time. Why not email him at ncr@mypostoffice.co.uk

Dog swooped on by Owl

Last September we were staying in our A-S Clubman GL at Polstead Caravan and Camping club site in Suffolk. A conservation area.

One evening about 9.30pm taking our Norfolk Terrier X (Phoebe) for her last walk of the day. We left the site and were walking along a stretch of dis-used road with tall trees either side. It was dark and the dog was on a retractable 16 foot lead. I had my torch on.

Suddenly without a sound, a large Owl swooped down, grabbed the dog in it's talons and attempted to fly off with her. Fortunately she was on the lead which I jerked sharply which resulted in the owl letting go and flying off. The talons had grabbed her harness which prevented more serious injuries. She did have cuts to her side where they had dug in. I am not sure what type of owl it was. It was dark brown, larger than a Barn Owl with tufts on its head.

On returning to the motorhome I googled this and found owls will take small dogs if the opportunity arises. I knew they took lambs, rabbits etc, but didn't realise they would go for a small dog. Had Phoebe not been on a lead we would have lost her.

Phoebe is no worse for wear after her ordeal but is worried when walking in woodland areas, constantly looking up.

I knows several club members have small dogs and may find this interesting.

Staying at the National Trust

Well you said you wanted to hear about trips taken in our motorhome in the uk, so thought we would tell you about two visits we made to CLs attached to National Trust sites last year.

The first was to Stourhead in Wiltshire. This is now a lovely CL (having been upgraded from the previous grotty corner of the car park). It is now in a closed in area attached to the car park with good size hardstandings and grassy areas.

It has the usual fresh water, waste water and elsan point. We went in May and the weather was glorious, sunny and warm. We toured the house in the afternoon and then after everyone else had left we were able to wander around the gardens practically on our own.

The gardens are magnificent and the colours were amazing with carpets of bluebells, and azaleas, and rhododendrons of many colours. There is also a pub by the entrance to the gardens which does a very nice breakfast – they do prefer you to book in advance, but we just turned up and they were able to accommodate us. Thoroughly recommend this CL.

We visited as a stopover on our way to the Newbury Show. We went with the MCC as ASOC don't seem to rally here. We really enjoyed this show – the entertainment was perfect for those of a certain vintage, being mostly 50's and 60's with everything from Billy Fury to the Kinks. There was also a frequent shuttle bus in to Newbury, which we enjoyed visiting – particularly having a stroll along the canal and watching boats go through the locks.

Our second CL was at Kingston Lacy in Dorset. This we booked and paid for in advance by internet and on arrival after negotiating the narrowish lane to the site, simply put the code provided into the key pad by the gate and set up on a pitch. No one checked us in or came to see us and apparently that's how it works.

We pitched on a hardstanding with a nice view over the fields and again there were the usual water and elsan points. A path across the field from the site led to a wood, which in turn opened out onto the parkland for the house.

We spent a couple of hours going round the house and then took in as much of the vast and varied gardens as we could. All in all a very pleasant stay.

Again we used this site as a stopover, this time on our way to the ASOC Winchester Rally. This was a very enjoyable rally. We arrived at the cricket ground and 'circled the wagons' before Rita led a group of us on a slightly soggy walk alongside the river into Winchester.

There's lots to see and do in Winchester and we particularly liked St Cross Hospital (which is right next to the cricket ground) with its old buildings and beautiful gardens, they also have a cafe serving excellent cakes!

Level Sensors

Following reports of early failure of level sensors in some vans, I have been looking closely at the measuring system and the sensors.

Currently, the factory is using a second generation of sensor that is a little more sophisticated, but the long term reliability of this sensor is also in doubt.

You will have seen in last month's Tech News that I am working up an alternative design and I am now ready to present this to the factory in a visit on 10th Feb. I should be able to report and begin working up an Ideas Sheet soon.

Whale Pump Priming

I have completed a report to present to the factory and Whale outlining my findings and making some recommendations.

Once the report has been reviewed by both parties, I will report my findings and recommendations from the factory for improving performance.

EC700 Control Panel

There is an on-going issue with the newer Sargent EC700 controller fitted in newer motorhomes. The control panels keep failing and many attempts to diagnose the issue have failed to produce a solution.

I do not have a complete grasp of the scale of the problem for members affected and I would welcome owner's input. I am assured by Auto-Sleepers that absolutely every effort is being made to overcome this problem and that Sargent have a whole department working on it. It seems that as they find one potential culprit, another pops up.

I am sure that the frustration felt at having a new motorhome with such a disrupting issue has not been helped by the many false dawns and rumours that are circulating. As news breaks on this issue, I am told that I will be informed and when I am, I will report, first on the website and then in the magazine.

2020 National Rally and AGM

For the Newark rally at the end of April, we will have our "Tech Table" discussions on Friday morning followed by the open forum in the afternoon. It is, as usual, an "open house" affair, an opportunity to say hello and talk to some industry experts about technical issues with your motorhome experiences. I will announce the attendance of the "experts" in next month's magazine. Please come along and enjoy the weekend.

Habitation Check Time

When I had the last habitation check carried out and emptied the motorhome, I was reminded of the "stuff" we take with us when we go away. This is what we were left with (excluding chairs etc. in the back box and food which was re-assimilated into the kitchen at home). It didn't all go back in.

This reminds me to keep a check on the axle weights!
(the sofa and cupboard were not in the van!)

Guide for Rally Marshals

Before booking a Rally, please contact the Rally Coordinator for approval of date and venue.

A Marshal

The administration and supervision of a rally is carried out by a marshal. It is usual in ASOC for a marshal to be a couple together in one van, however occasionally the marshal is actually two single people each in their own van. It is ASOC's policy that a marshal should be entitled to a free pitch on the rally; in this context the Club recommendation is:

One Marshal for up to twenty vans

Two Marshals for up to forty vans and

Three Marshals as an absolute maximum

A Rally

A rally is a meeting of club members to camp and socialise. Rallies can be held in the UK and Europe, they are the initiative of individual club members who voluntarily and at their own expense identify a suitable site, make all of the arrangements and are on site to conduct the rally.

Camping in Motorhomes in the UK is regulated by the Caravan Sites and Control of Development Act 1960. For land to be used as a caravan site it must have a caravan licence and planning permission for the use; many such sites exist and we refer to them as 'Commercial Sites'.

The first schedule to the 1960 Act contains paragraphs that detail cases where a caravan site licence and planning permission is not required. ASOC is able to conduct rallies under the terms of two of these paragraphs on what we call Green Field sites:

Paragraph 6 Exemption: ASOC have been granted a paragraph 6 exemption certificate. The time spent on site is strictly limited to 120 hours (5 days), this includes any setting up time required by Marshals. The rally has to be supervised by a member of ASOC and only permanent members of ASOC can attend.

Paragraph 4 Exemption: ASOC is a member of the Association of Caravan and Camping Exempted Organisations (ACCEO). ACCEO hold a para 4 exemption certificate that can be used (on application) by member clubs. ASOC have to have a marshal who is a personal member of ACCEO to supervise activity on site, ACCEO have to enter into a legal contract with the land owner and also consult local councils before using the site - and not use it if the council objects. ASOC can spend no more than 28 days at a time at these sites.

If the site is within a National Park, permission would need to be granted by the National Park Authority. This procedure can take at least a year and would be dealt with by the Rally Coordinator. A local authority can remove exemption from a site and/or an organisation if they receive a complaint or objection.

Rally Venue

The minimum requirement for a rally site is a fresh water supply and elsan emptying point.

- i. Commercial Sites the conditions laid down by the site warden should be observed. Some commercial sites have a separate area used for rallies, which would be classed as a 'Green Field' site.
- ii. 'Green Field' Site rallies will be held under the terms of an Exemption Certificate (paragraph 6 exemption). If setting up for a 5 day rally cannot be achieved within the 120 hour time frame, a Marshal may seek, as a private individual, permission from the land owner to camp for up to two days, using their own insurance cover. ASOC does not use Green Field sites for rallies outside the UK.

Pitching of motorhomes

On a Commercial Site, units should be sited in accordance with the pitches agreed with the site warden.

On a 'Green Field' site spacing is important. The minimum distance allowed between Motorhomes in all directions is 6m (20ft) to enable access for emergency vehicles and safe evacuation if necessary. For this reason, vehicles should ideally be facing the same way and in neat lines.

When marking out the site, remember to allow space for each Motorhome. 3m (10ft) for width and up to 8m (26ft) for length. If space is tight, the length calculation can be reduced, if shorter vans are booked on the rally.

Please reserve pitches near to facilities for disabled members and electric hook ups where requested.

Things to Consider

Whether a booking fee or deposit is required. If so, please check procedure with the Rally Coordinator

The site fee and electric hook up charges per night

The availability of free pitches for Marshal/s

The condition of the land – soft ground should be avoided at all costs

Location and flow of Fresh Water Point – if slow, congestion may arise

Chemical Toilet Emptying facility – if water is not available, suitable water containers need to be provided to rinse cassettes. Under no circumstances are cassette toilets to be rinsed out using Drinking Water taps

The availability of toilets on site

The disposal of rubbish – if there is no rubbish disposal point, provide bags for members to take rubbish home

The whereabouts of dog exercise area

Whether the site has a room suitable for 'communal use' - if you wish to use a Club urn, please reserve with the Rally Coordinator

Information for Ralliers

Site address, including post code – also required in the event of an emergency for the relevant services.

Address and phone number of the nearest:

Rally Costing

To comply with Club policy, ensure the rally at least breaks even. Receipts are required for all items costing over £20 and for other items wherever possible.

Site Fee

The charge made by the site, per night, multiplied by the number of nights of the rally. In some cases this may also include electrics, otherwise show the cost of electrics separately.

Some sites do not charge Rally Marshals for a pitch during a rally. If a charge is made, the cost should be added to the site fee paid by ralliers. Calculate this by dividing the cost of Marshal/s pitches by the anticipated number of participants and add to the site fee.

Rally Fee

The rally fee is designed to cover the cost of extras provided during the rally such as light refreshments, bin bags, envelopes etc. as well as small admin expenses incurred in arranging the rally plus rally plaques at £1.00 each (min order 25). Rally plaques are ordered through the Rally Coordinator once the Rally has been confirmed and paid for by the club treasurer.

Travel expenses are not paid by the Club. Purchases of equipment or large expenditure is subject to prior approval by the Rally Coordinator.

Raffle

A raffle may be organised, but is not a requirement. To comply with the Gambling Act, raffle tickets may only be sold to Club members during the rally. Proceeds are to be sent to the Club, although the cost of raffle ticket books and the purchase of prizes can be reimbursed from the proceeds.

Rally Refreshments & Meals

It is customary to hold a 'get-together' on the first evening of a rally with light refreshments, to introduce first time ralliers and announce any planned arrangements. A similar event can be held on the last evening/morning.

A meal may be arranged on site or at a local Pub/Restaurant. On site it is important all food is prepared and/or handled by adults. The use of barbeques is permissible with site owner's permission and providing they are sited at least 6m from any van if used in a group barbeque. Individuals use a barbeque at their own risk.

Organised meals and/or entertainment are optional extras to be paid for by the ralliers in addition to the site and rally fees.

Publication of Rally

Details of rallies are usually announced in the Club Magazine two months beforehand and bookings cannot be taken until this notice appears. Prepare a rally 'advertisement' in a similar format to others in the magazine, identifying the location, dates, Marshal's details, price and directions, plus any other information thought to be beneficial. Send to the Rally Co-ordinator as soon as possible. If the Marshal is prepared to accept payment for the rally by bank transfer as well as by cheque, he can say so in the advert and ask members to contact him for bank account details.

Once the rally has been confirmed, the Rally Coordinator will send 'Rules for Rally Marshals' and an agreement letter to be signed by the Marshal, along with other relevant documentation.

Please remember rallies should be as much enjoyment for the Marshal/s as for participants.

The Rally Coordinator or any member of the Committee will be happy to answer any queries or concerns and attendees on rallies are always more than willing to assist in any way.

The Rally Coordination has a list of suitable venues to hold rallies if you dont want to find a venue yourself for the first time.

He is happy to give you any help you may require.

Why not assist a Rally Marshal to see what is involved.
